

It Can Happen to You

It was a busy day, one like so many parents have. Travis Guthman was juggling work at the family pizzeria and caring for his six kids.

While trying to arrange a playdate, he decided to answer a text while driving. Distracted by his phone, he hit a concrete footing on a narrow bridge. His injuries were so severe, it has taken him two years and countless surgeries just to walk again.

During this time he hasn't been able to work, and admits the family would have lost the pizzeria if it hadn't been for his disability insurance policy. "Without it, we would have been in a world of hurt," he says. It allowed them to pay their bills and expenses without having to pull money out of the business.

"You think it will never happen to you, until it does," says Travis. "Disability insurance has been a huge blessing for our family."
