

Who's going to pay your loan?

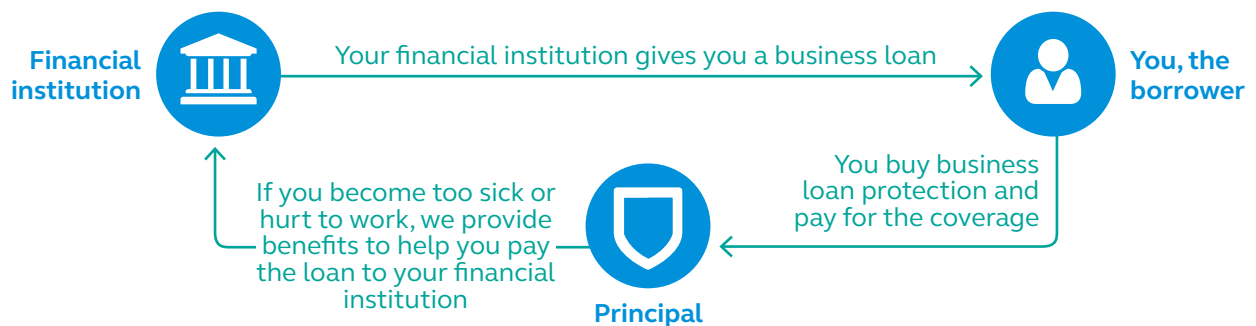

Your business loan may be one of your largest expenses each month. There's a lot on the line. That's why it's so important to make sure loan payments are made on time – even if you're too sick or hurt to work.

A Business Loan Protection rider¹ is available for an additional cost as part of an Overhead Expense insurance policy from Principal®. It helps:

- Protect your ability to repay a new or existing loan. This helps show your financial institution you'll pay them back – even if the unexpected happens.
- Keep your business going even if you can't be there. Staying current on loan payments helps keep your business up and running, employees on the job and customers coming in.

How business loan protection works

Many types of loans are covered

Business loan protection can cover a variety of loans. For example, loans to:

- Buy more computers or equipment
- Expand your office space
- Build up inventory

What types of loans do you have? Protect them and your business if the unexpected happens

Let's connect.

Contact your financial representative.

¹ The rider offers guaranteed premium rates until you reach the Business Loan Protection Termination Date and it cannot be conditionally renewed beyond the age 65 policy anniversary.

principal.com

Disability insurance from Principal[®] is issued by Principal Life Insurance Company, Des Moines, IA 50392-0002. Disability insurance has exclusions and limitations. For costs and coverage details, contact your Principal representative.

Principal, Principal and symbol design and Principal Financial Group are trademarks and service marks of Principal Financial Services, Inc., a member of the Principal Financial Group.

JJ1368-04 | 10/2016 | © 2016 Principal Financial Services, Inc.

Not FDIC or NCUA insured

May lose value • Not a deposit • No bank or credit union guarantee
Not insured by any Federal government agency